BETTER FEELING IN THE MARKET

Stocks Held Strong All Day, but Trading Was Dull—Shattuck and Denn Take Another Drop—Look for Advance in Greene-Canaan.

(By I. N. Kinsey)
GLOBE, June 7.—There was more strength manifested in the market today with a few noticeable exceptions. Denn took another fall and Shattuck, which is under the same management, also suffered. No reason is known for the slump in these stocks when others are showing more strength. It is believed, however, in case of the Denn, that the people behind are trying to shake out the holders who bought the stock around the century mark. Bissell and some in Duluth were the heaviest losers on this skyrocket, of which only the stick remains, notwithstanding the fact that the prospects at the mine are better than ever. Manipulation in Denn which sent it to $100 and then down to where it now is, was one of the unfortunate incidents of the year in curb stock trading.

Globe Consolidated remains strong with few sales at the present low quotations. It would take very little to put Globe up a few points, but it is unlikely that any attempt to boost it will be made unless there is something to justify it.

Paine of Boston says: Better feeling still prevails and stocks were strong all day. There was considerable liquidation by traders in advance, but it was well taken. Greene-Canaan seems to be on the upturn and it ought to get back around $20. We do not expect a bull market, but believe prices will work a few points higher. The money situation is worse and there seems to be no hope for easy money for a long time to come.

Walker Brothers of New York say: Dull but steady market prevailed throughout the day, with noticeable strength in Union Pacific and Reading. There appeared to be but little pressure in stocks and prices rose quite lively upon any inquiries. Trading power is entirely professional, the public maintaining the apathetic attitude it has shown for some time past. We are inclined to think, however, that the market should do better shortly.

BIG RABBIT DRIVE

Yuma Farmers Plan to Rid Themselves of a Thousand Cottontails

As soon as the money which the county board of supervisors has appropriated for wire netting for a rabbit corral is available the farmers of the valley are going to give the biggest rabbit drive this country has ever witnessed, says the Yuma Examiner. They are sorry that no soldiers are established at Old Fort Yuma because then they could take a whole regiment of men and go after Br'er Rabbit in a soldierly campaign. As it is, they will have to depend on their own forces with such as may be induced to drive out from the city for the day's work. Every body will be given ample notice and anyone who can ride will be mighty welcome to join in the hunt. The rabbits are so thick that they are eating the valley alive. They are in such numbers that they no longer are timid as hares. On the contrary, they are bold as hungry wolves, or nearly so. They sit around under the shade of the bigger mesquite trees in groups of from twenty-five to a hundred and talk about their neighbors and back up the farmers. If a man has a gun they talk about him worse than ever, but they seldom run.

Now what the farmers propose is to build a big winged corral out of wire netting and then drive the rabbits into the corral for a wholesale slaughter. They can salt down the hind legs for jerkin if they like the meat. There isn't any bounty on cottontails, so concerted action is necessary. All the farmers will agree on a day to turn out. Then they will circle certain fields or a given distance of space and drive the pests together by the hundreds. Then the rabbits will make a noise like 23.

STOCKS SHOW UPWARD TENDENCY

Liquidation Thought to Have Run Its Course and Market Due for Substantial Recovery—Coppers Share in the Advance—Close Is Strong.

(By H. H. Bru Co.)
GLOBE, June 7.—The tone of the general market was much better today than it has been for several weeks. Considerable buying was noticeable the early part of the day, but after midday there was a lull in the market which lasted about an hour and a half, when considerable activity and trading took place again. Stocks are seeking higher levels, although some professional traders still cling to the belief that we will have further breaks later.

The railroad reports for April and May are very gratifying and indicate a tremendous business moving in all sections of the country.

The local stock market continues a little dull. Plenty of low bids are received for Globe Consolidated and Superior & Boston, also National, but no stock is to be had at the present figures quoted and we expect these stocks to be bid up to better figures.

Our advice is to buy good stocks on recessions and hold them a while.

Do You Want

to Stop Drinking

We have the remarkable record of thirty-five cures in Globe dating from our arrival ten weeks ago. In your city we have treated thirty-six patients. Every stock has its black sheep. We have two who took the treatment under protest in a half-hearted way, never expecting, or intending, to be cured. These two cases are exceptions to the rule. They came to us with the intention of NOT being cured, of NOT taking medicine, but pretending to take the cure because friends offered flattering inducements. One of those men came to me several days ago complaining. "Why," he said, "I don't like whisky any more." He was actually angry because he had lost the appetite for stimulants. We guarantee a cure if you want to be cured. You will find the attendants competent and courteous and they will preserve perfect secrecy if you wish. Indorsements from the best citizens of Arizona.

A letter from the governor of North Carolina.
September 6, 1906.

Dr. J. J. McKenna,
Reidsville, N. C.:
My Dear Doctor—

From what has been reported to me as to your three days liquor cure by gentlemen in whom I have the utmost confidence, and from the further fact that I myself have sent to you patients who were terribly addicted to strong drink, who have been cured of the habit after taking your treatment, I have no hesitancy in saying that I believe that your cure will prove a great blessing to humanity, and I sincerely trust that the unfortunate ones who have contracted the liquor habit may avail themselves of an opportunity to effect a permanent cure. So firmly convinced am I of the efficacy of your treatment, that it is my intention to recommend to others the advisability of consulting you, as I feel sure that they will receive the same benefits as patients whom I have heretofore sent you.

Wishing you success, I am,
Yours very truly,
R. B. GLENN,
Governor.
